

Shoulder Fracture Repair Surgery

Plan for Care and Recovery After Your Surgery

Your health and safety are the number one focus of our entire care team. In the hospital or at the surgery center, we have many people working to help you have a successful surgery. When you return home, the responsibility for your recovery and care rests on you and your support system (such as family or friends). We want you to feel ready for a smooth transition from the hospital or surgery center to your home.

Our main goal is to make these instructions clear to help you in your recovery. We want you to have the best outcome possible. Please let us know if you have any questions.

Living Arrangements

For the first night after you leave the hospital and possibly longer, a friend or family member should stay with you to help monitor your recovery, to assure that your medication is used as directed, and to let us know if there are any problems. If that type of help is not available, please let us know.

Pain Medications

- Our goal is to treat your pain with multiple medicines and treatments (e.g., the sling and ice pack) in the safest way possible. This is called “multi-modal” pain control.
- Apply an ice pack to the shoulder on the site of surgery. Wrap the ice pack in a towel before placing on the shoulder to protect the skin. Apply for 30 minutes and then take a ten-minute break. Repeat 5 times per day minimum for the first 3 days.
- You will be given an adequate supply of pain medicines to manage the pain we expect after your procedure. It is important that these be taken only as prescribed, to keep you safe and avoid complications.
- If you do not need the pain medication or can manage with a lesser dose, that is encouraged. Please call our office at 321-842-0060 if you have questions about the medicines.
- If you think that you will need a refill of medications, please call at least 2 days before you run out of medicines.
- If your pain worsens significantly, please call our office at 321-842-0060.

Other medications

If you were taking medicines at home before surgery, please talk with us about when they can be safely restarted.

General Physical Activity

It is important for you to progressively resume your normal level of physical activity as soon as possible after surgery – walking with another person is often the safest way to start.

Therapy/exercises

Successful recovery from your shoulder surgery depends in large part by your work in the exercise program prescribed for you. If you have any questions—please let us know.

Recommended Exercises

- Start physical therapy within 1 week of the surgery.
- Please work on gentle elbow, wrist and hand bending and movement to avoid stiffness, with 10 exercises, 5 times per day.
 - Remove the sling to do these exercises.
- Work on gentle seated Pendulum / Modified Codman exercises five times per day to help avoid stiffness in the shoulder.
- You can lift 1 pound the surgically treated arm for normal daily activities such as eating, drinking, and cell phone use.
 - Keep your elbow at your side when doing these activities.

Restrictions: We recommend these restrictions to help the shoulder fracture heal in a good position. With your surgically treated shoulder, avoid the following:

- Do not actively move the surgically treated arm overhead to allow for healing.
- Avoid using the surgically treated arm to push off from a chair.
- Do not reach your hand out to the side and do not reach up behind your back.
- Wear the sling when up walking and when sleeping to protect the repairs.
